

Brian Harrison Biography

Numonyx

Brian L. Harrison was appointed President and CEO during the formation of Numonyx in 2008. At the time, Harrison was vice president and general manager of the Flash Memory Group for Intel Corporation.

During his tenure with Intel, Brian was responsible for all of Intel's flash memory businesses, including the NAND flash memory manufacturing company, IM Flash Technologies, LLC, and Intel's long-standing NOR flash memory businesses.

Prior to driving the flash business, Harrison served as vice president and general manager of Intel Europe, Middle East and Africa. Based in England, he was responsible for Intel's regional product sales and marketing. In preceding roles, Harrison led Intel manufacturing groups, including his general management of Fab/Sort Manufacturing, where he led Intel's wafer production facilities worldwide, with over 16,000 employees at seven manufacturing sites.

Brian is a graduate of Stanford University in Chemical Engineering, and holds an MBA from the University of Santa Clara. At Stanford, Brian was a four-year Letterman on the baseball team, and in 1989, he completed the famous Iron Man Triathlon in Hawaii.

