

Luc Van Den Hove
President and Chief Executive Officer
imec

Luc Van den hove, is currently President and Chief Executive Officer at IMEC, Leuven, Belgium, He joined IMEC in 1984. He started his career at IMEC in the field of silicide and interconnect technologies. Subsequently he has held several management positions: as from 1988: manager of IMEC's Micro-Patterning group (lithography, dry etching); 1996: Department Director of Unit Process Step R&D; 1998: Vice President in charge of the Silicon Process and Device Technology division; 2007 Chief Operating Officer. He has received his Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering from the University of Leuven, Belgium. Currently, he is also Professor at the University of Leuven. He has written 1 chapter of a book and authored or co-authored more than 100 publications and conference contributions.

